

Article Overview

Hungary hosts a mix of domestic and international fiber optic cable companies, including FONET Ltd., HELUKABEL Hungaria Kft., and China's Fiberhome.

Key Domestic Companies

- o FONET Ltd.: Established in 1995, FONET is recognized as one of Hungary's most professional fiber optic companies, offering high-quality products, services, and calibration laboratory support for fiber optic solutions (FONET Ltd.), .
- o HELUKABEL Hungaria Kft.: Part of the HELUKABEL Group, this company manufactures a wide range of cables, including data and custom fiber optic cables, focusing on industrial and infrastructural applications with advanced logistics and global service capabilities (HELUKABEL Hungaria Kft.), .
- o Comlink Electronics: Founded in 1999, Comlink provides connection solutions for telecom, computer, and other electronic equipment, operating multiple factories in Hungary and supplying fiber optic components (Europages), .

International Presence

- o Fiberhome: A leading Chinese info-communications company, Fiberhome is establishing its largest European base in Kisber, Hungary, to manufacture optical cables. This EUR 20 million investment is expected to create around 150 jobs and highlights Hungary's strategic role in European fiber optic infrastructure (Hungary Today), .

Distributors and Suppliers

- o Mouser Electronics Hungary: While not a manufacturer, Mouser is an authorized distributor for major fiber optic cable brands such as Broadcom and Banner Engineering, providing a wide selection of fiber optic cables, datasheets, and inventory for Hungarian customers (Mouser Hungary), .
- o Unoptix and ODW-ELEKTRIK GmbH: These companies specialize in high-quality optical transceivers, accessories, and tailored cable solutions, supporting scalable telecommunications networks and advanced fiber optic applications (Ensun), .

Summary

Hungary's fiber optic sector combines long-established domestic companies like FONET and HELUKABEL with international investments such as Fiberhome, creating a robust ecosystem for manufacturing, distribution, and technological innovation. Companies in Hungary serve both local and European markets, offering a range of products from standard fiber optic cables to advanced, customized solutions.
