

New Zealand Mesh Cable Tray Prices Offered

Article Overview

Mesh cable trays in New Zealand typically range from NZD $50 to $300+ depending on size, material, and supplier.

Pricing Overview

- o Ideal Electrical Suppliers stocks a wide range of mesh cable trays suitable for industrial and commercial applications, though specific prices are available upon request or online browsing .
- o RS NZ offers wire mesh cable trays (also called cable baskets) from brands like Cablofil, Legrand, and StarTech.com. Prices vary based on material (stainless steel vs. coated steel), width, and depth, generally starting around NZD $50 for smaller trays and increasing for larger or heavy-duty options .
- o SEP provides stainless steel wire mesh trays in standard 3-meter lengths with widths from 60mm to 600mm and side walls of 60mm. Custom sizes and Grade 316 stainless steel are available, which can increase the price significantly, often exceeding NZD $200-$300 for larger or premium trays .
- o Mitre10 offers smaller cable management trays for home or light commercial use, typically sold in packs, with delivery fees ranging from NZD $8 to $13.50 depending on location .

Factors Affecting Price

- o Material: Stainless steel (Grade 304 or 316) is more expensive than standard steel or coated trays.
- o Size: Width, depth, and length directly influence cost; larger trays for heavy-duty industrial use are pricier.
- o Supplier and Brand: Premium brands like Cablofil or Legrand may cost more than generic options.
- o Accessories: Mounting brackets, connectors, and custom fabrication can add to the total cost.
- o Delivery: Shipping fees vary by weight and distance, especially for rural areas .

Recommendations

- o For industrial applications, consider stainless steel trays from SEP or RS NZ for durability and compliance with safety standards.
- o For light commercial or home use, Mitre10 or PBTech offer cost-effective options with easy installation.
- o Always check supplier websites for current stock, pricing, and delivery options, as prices fluctuate based on material availability and market demand. By comparing suppliers and considering material and size requirements, you can select a mesh cable tray that balances cost and functionality for your project in New Zealand.
