They provide design, installation, and maintenance services for photovoltaic systems and offer high-quality solar modules and distribution solutions in Slovenia, Croatia, and Serbia . Krannich Solar Slovenia operates an online store offering a full range of solar components, including distribution boxes, inverters, and accessories. They provide detailed product information, delivery options, and regular promotions, making it convenient for both residential and commercial buyers . Soncni sistemi d.o.o. focuses on solar energy solutions for self-sufficient, hybrid, and off-grid installations. They offer professional installation, maintenance, and a variety of solar system components, including distribution boxes .

Additional Options

- o SolarFeeds is an eCommerce marketplace connecting solar installers with wholesale suppliers. They provide access to high-quality solar mounting systems, inverters, and distribution components at competitive prices .
- o HIMTEK supports electrical contractors and OEMs with multi-brand modular components, including MCBs, RCDs, RCBOs, and surge protection devices, which are essential for solar distribution boxes .
- o ENF Solar Directory lists 11 Slovenian wholesalers and distributors of solar panels and components, offering a convenient way to compare suppliers and brands .

Tips for Purchasing

- o Verify that the supplier provides ISO-certified products and complies with local electrical standards.
- o Check for after-sales support and installation services if needed.
- o Compare prices and delivery options, especially if ordering online from Krannich Solar or SolarFeeds.
- o Consider suppliers that offer complete PV kits if you are planning a full solar installation. By contacting these suppliers, you can source solar distribution boxes and related components efficiently while ensuring compliance with Slovenian electrical standards.
